Six skills

Skill	You learn to...
Research	find and select useful information
Analysis	explain causes, effects and links
Evaluation	judge sources and arguments
Reflection	think about learning and viewpoints
Collaboration	work fairly in a team
Communication	share ideas clearly for an audience

Personal · Local · Global

Most issues can be seen on three scales. Strong answers move between them.

Source checklist

Check	Question
Author	Who made this?
Purpose	Why was it made?
Date	Is it recent enough?
Evidence	Are claims supported?
Perspective	Whose voice is missing?

Worked mini-example

Claim: “Everyone has the same access to the internet.”

Better evaluation: Internet access differs by country, income and place. One class survey is not enough to describe the whole world.

Practice

1. Write one global issue you care about.
2. Name one personal, one local and one global angle.
3. List two places you could find evidence (with adult help).

GLOSSARY

analysis — explaining parts, causes and effects

bias — unfair preference that twists a message

cause — why something happens

consequence — what follows from an action or event

collaboration — working productively with others

credible — believable and trustworthy

evaluation — judging quality of sources or arguments

evidence — information that supports a claim fact — statement that can be checked

global — worldwide scale

issue — important problem or topic

local — community, school, town or country scale

opinion — personal view or belief perspective — a way of seeing from a position or group

prediction — reasoned idea about the future

reflection — thinking about learning and viewpoints

research — systematic search for information

source — place information comes from stakeholder — person or group affected by an issue

Lower Secondary

CHALLENGE 1 DIGITAL WORLD

Challenge focus: Digital world

Skills focus: Evaluation + Research

I can...

- compare digital sources for credibility
- explain personal, local and global digital access differences
- make a reasoned prediction about technology and learning
- design a simple “school for the future” idea with criteria

Big Idea

Digital technology changes how we learn, work and connect.

Different people experience different benefits and risks.

Strong investigators evaluate sources before they predict the future.

Key Words

Word	Meaning	Example
digital access	ability to use digital tools and internet	home broadband
credibility	how trustworthy a source	known organisation + date

	is
prediction	reasoned future claim	“more hybrid learning”

Perspectives lens

For every issue, consider:

Scale	Question
Personal	How does this affect me and my family?
Local	What happens in my school, town or country?
Global	What happens in other places and for other groups?

Session 1 — How technology shapes daily life

Explore

List your daily digital uses (school-safe discussion). Survey the class: main uses, benefits, worries.

Analyse

Which groups might have less access? Why might that matter for education?

Discuss

Fact, opinion or prediction? Sort five statements about technology.

Session 2 — Judging sources about the future

Research

With teacher guidance, collect three source types about digital change (news summary, statistic chart, opinion article).

Evaluate

Use the source checklist. Which is best for predicting school futures? Why?

Create

Note-taking grid: author · purpose · main claim · trust level (1–5) · reason.

Session 3 — Design: school for the future

Challenge output

In small groups, design a future classroom/school feature based on digital trends.

Include: problem, idea, who benefits, who might be left out, two success criteria, one risk.

Present

2-minute pitch + peer questions.

Research tip

Record sources carefully: title, author/organisation, date, URL if online, and why you trust or doubt it.

Evaluation tip

Separate fact, opinion and prediction. Ask: Who wrote this? Why? What is missing?

Reflection

What did you learn about evaluating sources? What would you check next time?

Home Learning
